Graduate College Career Navigators Information Session
Career Navigators: cohort-based career exploration and transdisciplinary competency development

Bimonthly career talks *open to all

Competency workshops

Discipline-based affinity cohorts

Individual career development plan exploration
Program features

Bimonthly career talks

Allow participants to learn how adaptive skillsets and transdisciplinary competencies are the gateway to diverse careers outside academia.
Competency workshops

Allow participants refine their own individual career development plans (ICDPs) while honing their transdisciplinary competency skillsets.
Disciplinary affinity groups

Cohort-based learning offers a place for participants to explore and reflect on how competencies can be leveraged within group members’ own career development plans.
Individual career development plan (ICDP)

Participants create a personal competency ‘checklist’ based on their individual strengths, needs, and desired career trajectories.
